"During this unprecedented time, Niagara Frontier Publications extends our sincerest well wishes to everyone," owners Skip and Judy Mazenauer said. "As we have all heard numerous times, please heed the advice of health care experts for your safety.

"With this concern in mind, NFP has temporarily suspended door-to-door delivery of your community newspapers. Doing so is for your safety, and that of our delivery personnel. Many of our carriers are younger adults and many others are senior citizens.

"Of course, the full newspaper can be read, or downloaded and read, on our website, www.wnypapers.com. There, you will find daily updates on the COVID-19 pandemic, local safety briefings, inspirational tales and so much more. All of this is free to our readers."

NFP appreciates your patience and understanding, and will continue to keep you informed with vital and reliable news, as we all work together to get through this challenging time.

A 'Destination of Hope'

On Thursday, Destination Niagara USA released the "Destination of Hope" video across its @NiagaraFallsUSA social media.

A press release said, "In the midst of the COVID-19 situation, traditional tourism promotion has had to take a backseat to softer and more inspirational messaging and there is no place more inspirational than Niagara Falls. The video - narrated by John Percy, president and CEO of Destination Niagara USA - is intended to keep Niagara Falls USA at the top of mind for consumers who may not be planning or purchasing, but they are still dreaming of their next vacation. Equally as important, the video is meant to bring a message of hope and solidarity to all local businesses of the hospitality community who are feeling the deep impacts of this crisis."

Percy said, "We have been working tirelessly to respond and adapt to this crisis and the impact that it is having on our industry. While this is a stressful and chaotic time for everyone, we wanted to take a step back from the anxiety and offer a sense of comfort and peace not only for consumers, but for our local partners in the hospitality industry. We know that this crisis will eventually give way to recovery and, when that happens, we will be here ready to welcome the world back to our community."
