

'The Kitchen: Quarantine Edition' debuts

Sunny Anderson, Alex Guarnaschelli, Katie Lee, Jeff Mauro & Geoffrey Zakarian cook-up dishes from their home kitchens

For the first time, Food Network's "The Kitchen" will premiere a food-filled, special quarantine edition this Saturday, April 4 (11 a.m. ET). Join co-hosts Sunny Anderson, Alex Guarnaschelli, Katie Lee, Jeff Mauro and Geoffrey Zakarian from the confines of their homes, as they partake in a kitchen pantry pull, sharing and cooking recipes from their home kitchens for this special edition of "The Kitchen."

"During this difficult time, food is one of the unifying forces bringing us together. The ability for family and friends to converse and share delicious recipes, while pushing their creative boundaries to make a meal from the ingredients they have in their pantry, is what Food Network is all about," said Courtney White, president of Food Network. "Pull up a seat with Sunny, Alex, Katie, Jeff and Geoffrey for some good times and tips on what you can utilize in your kitchen."

Katie Lee kicks things off with her pantry pull pasta puttanesca, then Jeff whips up a flavorful crispy skin salmon Provençal with charred red cabbage salad. Two "Iron Chefs" use a common pantry staple - beans - with Alex's white bean dip and Geoffrey's three bean salad, and Sunny's grilled bananas Foster makes the ultimate dessert. And no meal is complete without a virtual happy hour to toast to, complete with Geoffrey's tequila bumble bee and Katie's grape lime Ricky all without leaving the house.

Viewers can visit FoodNetwork.com to access all the co-hosts' cooking short-cuts, recipes and tips. Whether they need menu inspiration or want to remake the ingredients already stowed in your pantry, FoodNetwork.com has the, covered. Also, bookmark new recipes and join the conversation using #TheKitchen and #WeCook to showcase dishes made at home.

a second delivery person. In that, we're in pretty good shape."

The Lewiston store is among all Tops locations implementing additional safety measures for employees.

"What we're attempting to do, we're putting up plastic shields at the registers," DiMino said.

He explained, "My help is obviously very taxed. Of the 200 associates I have right now, I've lost 15 people that wanted to take a leave, which is fine. They're mostly older associates, or it's an associate that has a mother or father that is older or is sickly. So, they didn't want to chance that."

Chamber President Jennifer Pauly said, "We appreciate everything that you're doing to keep people fed in this area, and keep things clean. I know every single time I've gone in, it's been no issues, and people have respected space, and we appreciate that."
