'In the Loop' with the Lewiston-Porter Board of Education

Tidings of comfort and joy

BY JODEE RIORDAN
Board of Education President

With this Christmas Day edition of "In the Loop," we send you great tidings of comfort and joy. The Board of Education wishes you and your family the happiest of holidays. We may not be able to gather everyone we love near to us, as in olden days, but the simple joys of the season endure.

As the chairman of a different board once sang, "Let your heart be light; from now on, all our troubles will be out of sight."

We welcome a new year this coming week, and we hope our current troubles will indeed fade. But as we look back over this most difficult year, there have been many bright moments. It has been heartwarming and reassuring to witness our community come together to help each other in myriad ways. We have seen it over and over this year as people gave their all to support each other, to feed and nourish each other, to brighten dark moments, to keep each other safe and well.

The Lew-Port Holiday Project is the perfect example. A few weeks ago, we focused on how you could give, and give you did. Thank you to everyone who gave generously in support of the project by selecting an ornament and/or making a donation to assist our families for the holidays. Together, we fulfilled the Christmas wishes of 75 children, and provided 34 families with food, presents and Tops gift cards.

Heartfelt thanks to our school social workers, Danielle Kudela,

Erin Myers, Emily Brook and Alyssa Cino, who organized the Lew-Port Holiday Project. Danielle expressed gratitude to all, with special appreciation to our area churches and outside organizations, especially Mary Ellen Aureli from St. John Episcopal Church; Charlotte Perri and Kathleen Harold from Messiah Lutheran Church; Charles Barber from Lewiston Kiwanis; Rita Rolfe from the Town of Porter; Melinda Olick from the Youngstown Senior Center; the Lewiston Police Department; and the Lewiston-Porter United Teachers.

On behalf of the Board of Education, from our families to yours: Though, it's been said many times, many ways - merry Christmas to you!

Community Holiday Baskets Program benefits area's needy

Dozens of volunteers team up to make River Region campaign 'a great success'

By Terry Duffy

Call it another success for Youngstown.

Despite the many ravages from COVID-19 throughout the year, the Village of Youngstown community again stepped up to the plate and came through for the annual holiday program to assist needy families in the River Region.

Organizers of the Youngstown/Town of Porter Community Holiday Baskets Program report this year's campaign was "a great success" with 49 needy families and 106 children assisted for Christmas.

"We are so grateful to so many community members and organizations who were especially generous with their gifts of time, food and children's gifts, as well as monetary donations," program chairwoman Rita Rolfe said. "The Youngstown Lions Club, our biggest annual supporter, not only gave a large monetary donation, but also bought many specific gifts that were on needy children's wish lists. Many other organizations were also a big help."

Gift organizing chairwoman Janet Brooks said, throughout the week of Dec. 6-11, dozens of volunteers (donning masks and social distancing) worked daily at the Village Red Brick Community Center. Their efforts included organizing and wrapping the donated gifts for each family, as well as sorting and packing foods for families. On Saturday, Dec. 12, volunteer drivers joined in to send the children's gifts and donated foods to needy families.

"All together, there over 150 wonderful volunteers who helped our Community Holiday Baskets Program this year!" Brooks said.

She added that, due to the overwhelming support received from the community, the program would be able to assist even more, with additional food gift cards to be distributed in January and February.

Organizations that assisted in this effort included: A&M Auto Services;

Boy Scout Troop 829-Youngstown; the estate of Marie Stephens; Fidelis Care; First Presbyterian Church deacons; First Presbyterian Church Women's Association; Lewiston-Porter United Teachers Association; Lewiston-Porter Elementary retired teachers and staff; Swissmar; DiMino Lewiston Tops; Mary Rose Casero and the DiMino family; St. Bernard's Altar and Rosary Society; St. John's Episcopal Church congregation; St. John Lutheran Church congregation; Town of Porter office staff; U.S. Coast Guard Niagara; Victoria's Family Hair Care; Village of Youngstown Mayor Raleigh Reynolds and Board of Trustees; Village of Youngstown office staff; Village of Youngstown Department of Public Works; Youngstown Free Library; Youngstown Garden Club; Youngstown Lions Club; Youngstown Study Club; Youngstown Women's Club; and the Youngstown Yacht Club.

"Thanks to everyone who helped, and happy New Year," Rolfe said.

Living nativity scene on Creek Road

On Monday evening, members of the United Baptist Christian Church on Creek Road in Lewiston gathered to stage a living nativity event. The drive-thru program, held in the rear of the church, featured meaningful holiday displays, including live animals on location. Members participated and also served hot chocolate for visitors.
