

Builders Club volunteers show appreciation

BY JAMES SCULLY
Builders Club Secretary

Members of the Lew-Port Builders Club recently showed their appreciation to teachers, staff and principals by making cards and putting together an assortment of appreciation gifts.

The students purchased mugs and filled them with pencils, pens and green candies. This committee, made up of Builders Club volunteers Kaitlyn Szarejko, Kaylee Burkey, Lizzie Adamson, Sophia Gansworth, Kaitlyn Sonntag and Morgan Koller, divided into two groups to deliver the gifts to the entire middle school.

Their teachers were surprised and their reactions were joyful. Some of the responses to the students' gesture included Ms. Rayome, who said, "Thank you, thank you, thank you!"

Mrs. Stack exclaimed, "You guys are so sweet," while Tim Sledziewski left a note stating, "The custodial staff loved the gifts, thanks for thinking of us." And Mr. Jaruszewski said, "You made my day!"

The Builders Club volunteers feel their teachers, staff and principals at Lew-Port Middle School have done a lot for them, and are dedicated to teaching students what they need to know in life. They also think the teachers and staff deserve a little gift from the students to show how much they appreciate and care about the work they do.

NT class reunion slated for July

The North Tonawanda Class of 1971 is planning its 50 (plus 1) reunion for Saturday, July 16, at the Wurlitzer Towers. This is going to be a full weekend, including a Friday night meet and greet, a 9-hole golf tournament and, of course, the Sunday NTHS reunion picnic.

Organizers said, "If you or a classmate who has not been contacted, or if you know of a classmate who is not aware of this reunion, please contact the committee though our email address of NTCLASS71@gmail.com."
