

Youngstown Lions brighten holidays

The Youngstown Lions celebrated the holiday season with donations to the Youngstown Civic Guild's Christmas basket project and to Heritage Manor in Ransomville, a senior care facility.

The Lions donated to the Civic Guild for the purchase of grocery gift cards, new toys for young children and gift cards for teenagers. The Christmas Basket Project this year was expected to serve 60 needy families in the area. Lions Club members contributed grocery gift cards, nonperishable food, gift bags filled with new scarves, hats, gloves and new toys, plus gift cards for 120 children.

In addition, the Lions donated 115 gift bags containing new scarves, hats and gloves to all 102 residents of Heritage Manor, a senior care facility in Ransomville.

Despite thousands of women being diagnosed with cervical cancer each year, this type of cancer may not be as well known among female cancers. However, education about cervical cancer is vital, because the disease is entirely preventable with proper testing and vaccinations. Pap tests and HPV screenings, as well as HPV vaccinations during teenage years may effectively help prevent cervical cancer from forming and spreading to others. Throughout January, women and men can get the facts about cervical cancer and cervical health in general, and women can use this as an opportunity to schedule a wellness checkup with their gynecologists.
