Salute to soldiers in Town of Niagara

On May 30, the Town of Niagara unveiled a World War II service cloth containing the names of 152 men and women who served in WWII. Charles Falbo, who will soon turn 98 years of age, is one of two known survivors whose names are on the cloth.

The cloth was sewn in 1945 by 14 women from Belden Center and is on permanent loan from the Town of Niagara Historical Society. These veterans were either residents of Belden Center in the northeast part of the Town of Niagara and/or students at Nevada Avenue School.

The cloth was recently framed by Arthur Garabedian and will hang in the Community Center along with a plaque from 1946 that lists the names of 13 of those men on the cloth who died in the war.
