

'Drive-by Diaper Toss' planned for Grand Island newborn

Family and friends of Kadi and Jared Carr of Grand Island are helping the couple welcome the birth of their daughter, Willow Anne, with a drive-by "Diaper Toss CARE-a-vaan" at 3 p.m. Saturday, May 16.

The baby, pictured, was born May 9, and her birth weight is 7.3 pounds.

The "Diaper Toss" is a drive-by event, rather than the usual home baby shower, in order to maintain proper social distancing guidelines in effect during the coronavirus pandemic.

The parade of cars will assemble at the docks near Blue Water Marina on East River Road, Grand Island, and will drive by the Carrs' house around the corner, at 1492 Ferry Road, then proceed around the block. The family's house is just to the right of the Village Inn Restaurant (1488 Ferry Road, GI).

Drive-by guests will toss packages of diapers, boxes of wipes and baby care items on the front lawn of the Carrs' house. Willow's parents will be out on the porch to wave at the participants and, weather permitting, show off the baby for the folks to see — from a proper social distance, of course! And Willow's big sister, Maisie Jane, 4, will be watching the festivities, too.

Willow's grandmother, Laurie Carr, is hostess for the unusual baby shower. For more details about the event, you can call her or text to (607) 220-8341.
