First Presbyterian Church of Youngstown hosts 'Homecoming'

First Presbyterian Church of Youngstown celebrated "Homecoming Sunday" on Sept. 19. The church welcomed old and new members, as well as many newcomers, to 100 Church St.

Pastor Rex Stewart led the worship. Directly following, there was a joyous homecoming picnic with food for all and games for children. The celebration included a community art project of a large and colorful paper heart that will continue to be filled in the coming weeks.

Youngstown Presbyterian Church said it invites all to feel "at home" in its worship community. Stewart leads the Sunday worship services, which begin at 10 a.m. Monica Barner is director of children and youth ministries, leading interactive Sunday school and youth programs during and after the services. Adult Sunday school classes start at 9 a.m. each Sunday, as well. Youngstown Presbyterian also offers an active, vibrant music program led by music director Paige Hardison.

For more information, call the church at 745-7067 or visit its Facebook page (First Presbyterian Church of Youngstown).

Blessing of pets in Youngstown

Pets, and their owners, are invited to Faulkner Park in Youngstown for a special blessing at 11:30 a.m. Sunday, Oct. 3. The Rev. Barbara Price of St. John's Episcopal Church will mark the feast of St. Francis of Assisi, the patron saint of animals, with this special event.
