The inclusive playground at Marilyn Toohey Park is now open – splash pad included – and families and children have taken a liking to the new recreational area.

Village of Lewiston trustees acknowledged this at their meeting Tuesday, but also suggested more can be done to keep the play space safe.

"I've seen a lot of kids out there today – older kids – they were gathering underneath the pavilion," Deputy Mayor Vic Eydt said. "They weren't horsing around or anything; they were being good. But kids (are hanging out). I think that we should take a look at possibly putting in cameras and tying it in (to the Lewiston Police Department)."

Treasurer Stephanie Longwell said, "I have left a message to get (price) quotes. I have not heard back yet."

"OK, so, it's something we're already working on," Eydt said.

"Yes," she replied.

Mayor Anne Welch said the clerk's office is looking into pricing to update the entire camera setup in and around the park
