

GardenFest in beautiful bloom

The Lewiston Garden Club celebrated its annual GardenFest this past weekend with beautiful weather, large crowds, and the finest in greenery. This year's theme was "Helping Lewiston bloom for 95 years," and the event featured speakers, open gardens, vendors and special displays along Center Street.

Proceeds from Lewiston GardenFest go back into the soil of the historic village for civic beautification efforts and scholarships. Volunteers work all year on sprucing up the 200-year-old community.
